Simple Meal Ideas

You don't need fancy recipes to do this well. These are simple ideas for every meal, all made from Yes foods.

Use them on busy days, or as a starting point when you're not sure what to make.

BREAKFAST

- Smoothie with berries, greens and coconut cream (add a scoop or two of electrolytes for flavor and sweetness)
- Coconut yogurt (no added sugar or guar gum) with berries, coconut flakes and a sprinkle of tigernuts
- Collagen protein drink (e.g., Vital Proteins collagen @ Costco)
- Nitrate-free ham or bacon with avocado and fruit
- Leftovers! Last night's dinner makes a great breakfast

LUNCH

- "Sandwiches" wrapped in a large lettuce leaf or a coconut wrap
- Chicken salad made with coconut yogurt or mashed avocado, celery and apple
- Thai lettuce wraps with coconut aminos, lime, ginger, garlic and cilantro
- Tuna or salmon (low-mercury, wild caught)
- Deli sandwich with high-quality deli meat (Kirkland ham, roast beef or turkey @ Costco — check for sugar and chili) on lettuce
- Roasted vegetables: Brussels sprouts, asparagus, zucchini, cauliflower, carrots, onion, parsnips, turnips, mushrooms, yams
- Steamed broccoli or cauliflower with ghee and salt
- Suja green drink @ Costco and Walmart (check that the flavor has no added sweetener)
- Easy green salad meal: leftover rotisserie chicken or chopped deli meat on mixed organic greens with kalamata olives, artichoke, cucumber, carrots, cauliflower, mushrooms, sprouts and avocado. Dress with half a lemon, olive oil and salt.
- Cobb salad without cheese or eggs
- Coleslaw — use stevia, allulose or monk fruit for sweetness
- Guacamole (no tomato or jalapeño) with cucumber slices as chips
- Raw vegetables with ranch made from coconut yogurt, dill, garlic, onion powder and lemon

DINNER

- Taco salad without cheese or chips — season with garlic, onion powder, oregano, turmeric and salt
- Tacos on lettuce or cassava tortillas
- Hamburger or salmon patty on lettuce
- "Nomato" sauce (carrot, beet and pumpkin simmered with garlic, onion and basil, then blended) on zucchini noodles or spaghetti squash
- Rotisserie chicken (check the seasoning, or roast your own)
- Grilled chicken: lemon, garlic, herb, or teriyaki-style with coconut aminos, ginger and garlic, sweetened with stevia or allulose
- Steak
- Roast (smoked roasts and briskets are amazing — time to get a smoker! Use a salt, garlic and herb rub)
- Stir-fry with coconut aminos on cauliflower rice
- Roasted salmon with lemon and dill
- Chicken noodle soup with zoodles (zucchini noodles)
- Vegetable soup with hamburger (no tomato)
- Stew with carrots, parsnips, turnips and sweet potato (no white potato or tomato)
- Stuffed zucchini boats or acorn squash with ground meat and cauliflower rice
- Coconut curry with turmeric, ginger, garlic and lemongrass (no curry powder or paste) on cauliflower rice
- Meatloaf made with coconut or cassava flour and gelatin as the binder
- Tom kha gai — coconut, lemongrass, lime leaf, ginger and mushroom soup (skip the chili)

Adapted for elimination These ideas come from the Anti-Inflammatory meal list with eggs, peppers, tomatoes, chili, cheese, nuts, sweeteners and soy sauce removed or swapped. Egg salad, stuffed bell peppers, Penang curry, tortilla soup, BBQ sauce and pea pods are back on the menu after you've tested those foods.
